Analyst

Ramez Attia has a passion for problem solving. He enjoys the fast pace and high pressure situations, incorporating past learnings, research and new facts to create novel solutions. Through college, Ramez has been hired for many facets of due diligence, market research and profitability analysis for businesses buying and selling their companies.

From a young age Ramez has found success through challenging and competitive situations. Ramez grew up in Egypt but due to political turmoil in his home country he moved to the United States at the age of 14. Since moving to the States, he recently completed his last semester at Lewis & Clark College with a double major in Economics and Psychology and a minor in Entrepreneurship while playing tennis for his school. He and his fellow classmate won the state of Oregon's InventOR pitch competition for startups in 2020 (as well as the People's Choice Award) and over $12,000 of prize money.

Ramez joined Paine Pacific in early 2021 and is currently attending Babson College's Masters in Entrepreneurial Leadership (MSEL).
